EQUIPMENT.

Equipment provided by the organization:

At the start of each stage a topographic map, or aerial picture, a control card and a route sheet with detailed instructions will be provided to each team.

All specific equipment necessary for the execution of each raid's trial will be provided for by the organization. The organization will not provide protective gloves, airsoft protection goggles and airsoft guns (see exception below for participants traveling from abroad). Each participant is individually responsible for bringing their own protective gear. PARTICIPANTS WITHOUT AIRSOFT PROTECTION GOGGLES SHALL BE DISQUALIFIED.

Personal Equipment.

Each team member must be equipped with:

- Cold and rain clothes.
 - Bivouac Equipment
 - Airsoft protection goggles certified for this use.
 - Protection gloves.
 - Food and water.
 - Mobile Phone in Operating state. During the competition the mobile must be kept switched off and will only be used in case of emergency.
- Each patrol team should be equipped with compass and First Aid Kit.

Additional optional Equipment

- Spare clothes and shoes.
- Sun glasses.
- Hat or cap.
- Energetic food.
- Pocket knife or multi-tool.
- Equipment for possible water crossing or swampy ground.
- Airsoft gun and BB's. It is not compulsory to carry airsoft guns during the Raid, however, extra scores can be attained in some individual trials if they are carried by the team(*)

Airsoft gun's used by the participants and the organization must fulfill usual limited power requirements, included in our raid regulation: 350 fps maximum power, as measured on the competition's date. Measurement tests will be performed prior to the start of the competition by means of chronograph. Those replicas found out of limits can still be carried during the completion but they shall not be loaded nor used (batteries/gas will be withdrawn).

(*) – For international participants and to avoid the complications of transporting airsoft guns by plane or through customs, the organization can provide airsoft guns for rent at a nominal fee if requested in advance at least three weeks before the competition. Please email us at raid@ares-resvol.es to enquire.

UNIFORM:

During the competition, military campaign uniform/fatigues as per the participant's own military unit. Travel to and from the Raid area using civilian clothes.

TRIALS:

The Raid will consist on a series of timed tactical and sport trials and pass controls along a timed march route in the countryside around the host village (Daganzo de Arriba). There could be some changes due to meteorological or unpredicted causes.

ADITIONAL INFORMATION:

Additional information about directions and the competition will be provided to the registered teams and individual participants in the weeks before the competition.
